

Herzlich
willkommen
zum
BVMed-Hygieneforum
2020

Surgical Site Infections in Europa und ihre Folgen

INSIGHT REPORT:

Identifying the gaps between evidence and practice in the prevention of surgical site infections

18.3%
of all HAIs
in Europe

800,000
SSIs in Europe

In Europe, over 16,000
deaths annually⁹

Surgical Site Infections in Europa und ihre Kosten

France

Additional Cost: €17,434

French patients who developed an SSI constitute a total per-patient medical cost €17,434 higher than those patients who did not develop an SSI.

Germany

Additional Cost: €22,900

The development of an SSI was associated with additional total medical costs of €22,900, relative to uninfected patients.

Italy

Additional Cost: €32,000

The development of an SSI was associated with additional total medical costs of €32,000, relative to uninfected patients.

Spain

Additional Cost: €10,232

The development of an SSI was associated with additional total medical costs of: $10,232 relative to uninfected patients.

UK

Additional Cost: €11,766

Patients who contracted an SSI constituted an additional healthcare financial burden of €10,523 per patient.

BVMed Positionspapier zur deutschen EU-Ratspräsidentschaft 2020

Ziel

„Avoid 1 out of 5“ ,
also 20 % der behandlungsassoziierten Infektionen in den nächsten 5 Jahren

Vorschläge für einen patientenorientierten und besseren Infektionsschutz:

- Infektionsprävention als Schwerpunktthema auf der Agenda der EU-Kommission
- Ausreichende Ressourcen für adäquate Infektionsprävention
- Stärkung des ECDC und jährliche Daten zum Infektionsgeschehen von hoher Qualität